A little audience participation
At the end of today’s sessions you will have the opportunity to vote on the future of amalgam. We plan to use the voxvote system to ask you questions and capture your responses.

If you haven’t already logged in to voxvote or set it up on your phone here’s how:

Where to go to vote

- Vote on live.voxvote.com in your browser or download the iOS VoxVote or Android Play Store version.
- On the screen you’ll see the Pin Code you need to enter to register your votes.
- For each question there is a set time limit to vote so we’ll let you know how long you have to give us your answer.

Preparing for self-employment
Practice ownership and how to get the most out of your accountant

Life as a Principal
From University to VT to Practice Owners
Jayne Clifford, Martin Aitken & Co in conversation with Iain Maudsley, BDS & Brian McMillan, BDS. Iain and Brian qualified from the University of Glasgow in 1994 and currently operate several dental practices.

Main Programme Aims and outcomes
FGDP(UK) Scotland will provide a whole day seminar for the dental team focusing on an examination of the evolution of crowns and bonding, an evidence-based evaluation of ceramic systems and management of the deep carious lesion. Speaker presentations will culminate with a debate on the future of amalgam.

1. Delegates will be able to discuss the selection and manipulation of contemporary dental cements and evaluate evidence-based ceramic systems
2. Delegates will be able to gain greater knowledge of historical and contemporary bonding agents and provide examples of treatment options for the deep carious lesion
3. Delegates will be able to describe options for the future use of amalgam after hearing the arguments for and against

Delegates have been emailed more details for each presentation.

Aubrey Craig from MDDUS: Regulation, Regulation, Regulation!
Kristian Stuart from GSK: Diagnosis and Treatment of Gum Disease

Planetarium Show

The Future of Amalgam
Trevor Burke and Terry Donovan. Each speaker has 30 mins, then 30 Q&A and a vote.
Study Day 2018

Friday 7 December 2018

In 2017 the FGDP(UK) in Scotland celebrates 25 years of hosting world-class speakers at our study days. Our illustrious line-up of speakers began with Jan Parmeijer and includes Didier Dietschi, Van Haywood and Martin Kelleher. In that time we have welcomed thousands of dental professionals to events which aim to provide essential updates but also challenge your thinking and day-to-day working practices.

In 2018 we are delighted to welcome our first-ever all female line-up of headline speakers in Charlotte Stilwell and Serpil Djemal. They will present lectures featuring accessible and informative updates on removable dentures and dental trauma. Full details and additional speakers will be announced in early 2018.

Book from early 2018

Booking opens in January 2018. If you would like to reserve your place at our special rate prior to that you can let us know following today’s event by emailing Andrew Miller at events@fgdp-scotland.org.

See you in 2018!

THE CALDWELL MEMORIAL LECTURE

It is an honour for FGDP(UK) Scotland to be associated with a figure of the stature of Robert Craig Caldwell. Every year our final session at the study day is dedicated to his memory and in 2016 we were joined in commemorating him by the Glasgow Dental Alumnus Association, the body which established the Caldwell Memorial Lecture.

Born in the United States but raised in Millport, he graduated from the University of Glasgow in 1950 and embarked on a career in dentistry that saw him return to America as Dean of the School of Dentistry, University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA).

While there, he introduced the comprehensive patient care programme and encouraged the recruitment of minority and female students so that all segments of the population could be represented in the student body. He also encouraged students to seek advanced training and considered students to be his junior colleagues. After just three years in post Bob died, at the age of 46, of chronic myelogenous leukaemia.

His classmates at the University of Glasgow established the Caldwell Memorial Lecture and set up a trust to ensure that world-renowned speakers could be brought to Glasgow.

Terry Donovan and Terry Burke will present the Caldwell Memorial Lecture to all delegates from 3.45pm.

Dental Protection is the world’s leading protection organisation for dentists and dental care professionals. Membership can provide access to expert advice and support together with the right to request indemnity for any complaints or claims arising from professional practice. We are renowned for our comprehensive defence service, but with Dental Protection members receive so much more. Our combined approach to protecting members involves working side-by-side every step of the way, not just resolving problems but also helping to prevent them occurring at all.

Our protection is based on three main areas:
- Our support reduces the chance of members receiving claims and complaints
- Our advice helps members to combat the risk of claims
- Our defence protects members and their reputations when they need us.

However you work, we can be here for you. We treat you as an individual, tailoring our support to your needs as your career develops and providing you with a lifetime of protection. Dentalprotection.org

TDS is now the indemnifier of choice and still the only company in Scotland offering full professional indemnity insurance and legal services to dentists. The only non-discretionary provider in Scotland. Practice Match is a dental conveyancing company. Expertly tailored discreet service with in-house legal services for the buying or selling of dental practices. The prices are extremely competitive in combination with legal services. When you analyse the costs of solicitor’s fees, valuation and agency introduction to conclude a contract it is not difficult to see why Practice Match stands alone when offering the combined services. We offer legal and dental knowledge in excess of 60 years.

The Glasgow Dental Alumnus Association (GDAA) was established in 1979 and played a major role in the fund-raising activities for the West of Scotland Postgraduate Dental Centre, as well as hosting social and academic events. For a variety of reasons the GDAA became dormant in 2004, but in 2014 was re-established under the direction of William McLean (Lead for Alumni Relations and Fund-raising) and the President, David Still. It has now developed into an active and vibrant Association, engaging with increasing numbers of BDS Glasgow graduates, fund-raising for the Dental Appeal (www.gla.ac.uk/dentalappeal) and enjoying strong support from the University of Glasgow.

VOCO has been supplying dentists around the world with high-quality dental materials since 1981 and is regarded as one of the world’s leading manufacturers within the sector.
